A Holiday Greeting To Chandler Residents

I am often reminded during this festive time of year how valuable families are and how fortunate I am to be living and raising my family in Chandler. Our community offers such an amazing quality of life - from parks to shopping and community programs to restaurant choices - the amenities that we are able to enjoy are almost limitless.

Our greatest amenity is the character of this City -- the tight bond that can be felt among our residents. I continue to be impressed by the outpouring of support and generosity that is provided to community members who are in need. Chandler has a number of agencies that can reach out to those who may require a little help this holiday season. These agencies can facilitate a holiday donation through their many worthy programs. If you are able to offer assistance, you can contact a favorite service agency of your own, or you can call the United Way at 602-631-4686 for information on other human service organizations in Chandler.

I encourage each of you to spend time with your families this holiday season, and enjoy the numerous activities, events and amenities that Chandler has to offer. And let us also spend time remembering the service and sacrifice of our military personnel as they defend freedom overseas, and keep them and their families in our thoughts.

On behalf of the City Council and City staff, I wish all of you a wonderful holiday season!

Mayor Boyd W. Dunn

Two Events Celebrate Community Diversity

Two events take place in Chandler this January that celebrate Chandler's diversity and unite the City's residents. Author and professor Jewell Parker Rhodes will be the keynote speaker for the 2004 Celebration of Unity lunch to be held Friday, January 16, at the San Marcos Resort, in Historic Downtown Chandler. Now in its fifth year, the Celebration of Unity is sponsored by the City of Chandler, the Chandler Human Relations Commission and Intel. Tickets to the event will go on sale this month and will be available through the Chandler Center for the Arts. For more information on the event, call 480-782-2214.

On Saturday, January 17, the 9th Annual Friends' Multicultural Festival takes place from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Downtown Library courtyard. Presented by the Friends of the Chandler Public Library, this year's festival will feature musical performances, dance troupes, visual art demonstrations, interactive booths, children's stage and international food and coffee. This free event is sure to be fun for the entire family. Sponsors for this year's festival are the City of Chandler, the Chandler Human Relations Commission, Motorola, and the Arizona Arts Commission.

The 2003 Multicultural Festival will feature performances by Keltic Cowboys, Quetzal Guerrero y Cascabel, Kawambe Omowale, Si Se Puede and more!
